Dear Mr. Brown:

I have read your letter of June 3 which unfortunately was received only recently.

As I indicated in my letter to you of May 14, I believe the best way to promote the advocacy of your cause is through positive action, the reasoned presentation of hard fact. Your refusal to comply with the requirements of the census does not constitute positive action, and I fear does nothing to promote your legitimate concerns. It is my feeling that you would better serve your cause by approaching a national body such as the Canadian Medical Association to enlist their support, than to engage in acts of civil disobedience.

Yours sincerely,

Flora MacDonald
